32. Plaintiff CHARLES owns the following products sold by Defendant APPLE INC.: IPAD, IPOD, and a VIDEO IPOD
33. On or about December 9, 2010, Plaintiffs visited Defendants' Broadway Store.
34. Plaintiffs were dressed in baggy jeans and large sweaters with hoods.

35. Plaintiffs were lawfully present in Defendants' Broadway Store.
36. Plaintiffs were at Defendants' Broadway Store to purchase personal property.
37. Plaintiffs purchased headphones from Defendants' Broadway Store.
38. Plaintiffs made their purchase in the basement of Defendants' Broadway Store and proceeded upstairs.
39. At approximately 3:20 pm, Plaintiffs were standing on the entry level of the Defendants' Broadway Store and were approached by one of Defendants' employees, now known to be Security Personnel, wearing in khaki pants and a black shirt.
40. Upon information and belief, this individual is subject to the same oversight and requirements as all other Security Personnel and as alleged herein.
41. Defendants' Security Personnel who approached them was a Caucasian male, in his 50's with salt and pepper hair, was about 6 feet and 2 inches tall, and weighed about 225 pounds ("John Doe").
42. John Doe approached Plaintiffs and said, "You know the deal. You know the deal."
43. John Doe told Plaintiffs, "Either you're here to see a Mac Specialist or to purchase something. If you are not doing either you have to leave the store."
44. When Plaintiffs protested, John Doe responded, "And before you say I'm racially discriminating against you let me stop you. I am discriminating against you. I don't want 'your kind' hanging out in the store."
45. Plaintiffs were shocked and humiliated by the racist remark made by John Doe.
46. After John Doe made the racist remark, Plaintiffs used their cell phones to record what transpired when another of Defendants' Security Personnel approached Plaintiffs.
47. The second of Defendants' Security Personnel to approach Plaintiffs identified himself as the Head of Security and told Plaintiffs, "Now you have to go. If you want to know why, it's because I said so. CONSIDER ME GOD. You have to go."

48. Plaintiffs asked to speak to a manager to file a complaint. Defendants' Head of Security told Plaintiffs that there was no complaint to be made and walked away from the Plaintiffs, deliberately ignoring their request to see a manager.
49. Plaintiffs searched the retail store and found a manager who, upon information and belief, works exclusively for Defendant APPLE INC. Before Plaintiffs could explain their situation to the manager, Defendants' Head of Security interjected and said, "I asked them if they needed a specialist."
50. Due to this interjection and the perceived submission to Defendant APPLE INC's manager, it was apparent that Defendants' Security Personnel were subordinate to Defendant APPLE INC's management.
51. Plaintiffs complained about the John Doe's racial profiling and pointed out that none of the Caucasian customers were being approached by Defendants' Security Personnel or asked to leave.
52. Further, at no point was there any accusation made against Plaintiffs that they had done anything improper. In direct contrast, Plaintiffs were merely present in the store in the same manner as other, non-Black customers and confronted by John Doe and told that they had to leave and that they were being discriminated against.
53. In order to further harass, degrade, humiliate, and discriminate against Plaintiffs, Defendant APPLE INC's manager asked Defendants' Head of Security to call 911.
54. This was despite knowledge of Plaintiffs' complaints and in furtherance of the discriminatory acts being committed by Defendants' Security Personnel.

55. Plaintiffs were then required to leave the premises by Defendant APPLE INC's employee with Defendants' Security Personnel.
 56. Defendants interfered with Plaintiffs right to purchase personal property because of their race by removing them from the location where it could be purchased.
 57. Defendants' actions and conduct was intentional and intended to harm Plaintiffs.
 58. John Doe acted with racial animus and intentionally discriminated against Plaintiffs.
 59. Defendant APPLE INC's manager condoned John Doe's acts and further participated in removing Plaintiffs from the store due to racial animus. Defendant APPLE INC's manager thus intentionally discriminated against Plaintiffs.
 60. As a result of Defendants' actions, Plaintiffs felt extremely humiliated, degraded, victimized, embarrassed, ridiculed and emotionally distressed.
 61. As a result of the Defendants' discriminatory and intolerable treatment of Plaintiffs, they suffered severe emotional distress.
 62. As a result of the acts and conduct complained of herein, Plaintiffs have suffered and will continue to suffer emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience, loss of enjoyment of life, and other non-pecuniary losses.
 63. Defendants' conduct has been malicious, willful, outrageous, and conducted with full knowledge of the law. Further, and evidenced by John Doe's statements and Defendant APPLE INC's manager's indifference to Plaintiffs' complaints of discriminatory treatment, Defendants' actions were made with at the very least a reckless indifference to the New York State, New York City and Federal laws prohibiting discriminatory treatment.
